& Hudson Community First
Speaker Series Presents:

Preventing Eating Disorders in Teens

November 10th, 7:00pm at the Summa Wellness Institute

5625 Hudson Drive

Eating issues in teens is often a painful emotional issue for both the parent and the child. Join Lee Ann DiBiase, RD, for a frank in-depth discussion on the types of eating disorders affecting our teens and the health consequences of under eating. She will discuss what can be done to try and prevent this from happening and offer tips if your child is suffering from an eating disorder.

This talk is free and open to all students and their parents.

To register, please call the Summa Wellness Institute
